Company Overview

- HCEA Strategic Marketing helps your company break into new international markets and industries by bridging the East and West.
- Our vast knowledge base coupled with decades of experience in global business makes us the perfect partner for any company ready to expand into international markets or preparing to launch additional products and services.
 - Comprehensive business solutions to help you set up your company, locate new products and services to meet changing trends, government regulations, and technologies
 - Core branding, marketing, advertising services, website development, e-commerce solutions, and SEO to help your company establish its international presence
 - Negotiations, contract creation, logistical arrangement and coordination, sales and vendor meeting organization and leadership

Company History

- In 2008 HCEA started engineering and consulting and progressively developed strategic marketing for our own internal needs.
- Later we expanded our offerings to include a Strategic Marketing Department with a dedicated Marketing Director as a professional service for our many clients.
- Today, we proudly provide Strategic Marketing for companies around the globe.
- Our Team is comprised of:
 - A diverse mixture of Western nationals fully immersed in China
 - A broad range of backgrounds, education, vision and knowledge that maximizes our creative pool
 - High moral and ethical standards and values

Company Approach

- HCEA has successfully created marketing strategies and projects for both national brands and international distribution.
- HCEA is a team of Advertisers, Marketers, Researchers, Designers, IT Developers, Web Masters and Copywriters – With all of these talented people working under the supervision of a dedicated Project Manager.
- For each project, a single Project Manager is appointed to bridge our team to yours to maximize clarity in communication.
- HCEA's in-house Marketing Director supervises and validates all documents and deliverables prior to issuance to you.

Defining And Validating Your Needs: The Key To Success

- At HCEA we first analyse your desired final result, then we construct and implement a realistic plan that ensures your success.
- Don't rush just to fail.
- We take the time to go STEP by STEP. We will only act when we understand your needs and all parties agree on the same vision for your project.
- We create, implement and complete projects that lead to our clients long-term business success. To succeed we must :
 - Understand your needs
 - Validate your goals with the current global market trends for your target audience to confirm your long term success
 - Draft a solid business or marketing solution for your approval

Company Culture: Creative Engineering To Make A Difference

- From a young age, the Founder of HCEA has been passionate about creation, technology and development.
- An Engineer by trade, his background and knowledge of mechanical, structural, architectural design, and IT goes into every HCEA project.
- After several years in professional practice, he set up HCEA with talented friends and trusted business partners (some cooperating 15+ years) and we are now able to provide a full range of services for your business expansion.
- HCEA's experienced international team brings you reliable, proven Marketing Strategy solutions to help you create new companies, powerful marketing tools and successful business opportunities.
